Current Events

By Arthur Brisbane

THE stock market had a bad turn, not serious, just a little upset. Foreign money fell down—pounds, francs and Italian money. Even German marks fell, although they couldn't fall far. You could buy one trillion marks that once were worth two hundred and fifty thousand million dollars for twenty cents yesterday. The day before you would have paid twenty-four cents.

IN EUROPE they don't know what to think about anything. Here some financiers are disturbed by the oil revelations. It worries them to find business men supposed to be intelligent carrying on illegal practices in such a simple-minded, sure-to-be-found-out way.

HENRY FORD, who mysteriously keeps independent of banks, urges deeper probing of the oil scandal. He thinks "international banking houses conspired and financed the deal," and that the deal has something to do "with our attitude toward the Mexican difficulty."

YOU WOULD think American opportunities would be content to make fifty or one hundred millions, legitimately, without stealing all reserves set aside for national safety. But the French say truly: "Appetite comes with eating."

NEVADA killed Gee Jon, Chinese Tong murderer, with hydrocyanic gas, at ten o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. Jon, according to guards, "wept a little as he was placed in the chair." His tears seemed to ask: "Why pick on me?" all day. Doctors say death was painless, but they don't know. Gee Jon lived six minutes after he began breathing the deadly gas. Where is he now? Somewhere in space, telling Confucius about it?

IF GOVERNMENT insists on killing it should kill as savages usually do, choking with a rope, cutting off the head, or in some other savage fashion. Science and scientists should not be discerned in the operation.

WHILE "civilization" was killing a Chinese murderer with poison gas in Nevada, it was killing two negroes by electricity at Huntsville, Texas. One warden, Walter L. Miller, resigned rather than kill the negroes. Another said: "Pulling the switch of an electric chair means nothing to me."

IT MEANS something to civilization. Ten thousand years hence this will be spoken of as an age that used to hang, shoot, asphyxiate, kill with electricity and then foolishly expect criminals, with the undeveloped minds of children, NOT to imitate a murderous example set by government itself.

THERE ARE signs of light here and there. New York city yesterday appropriated $15,000,000 additional for public schools, making $130,000,000 all. Continued on Page 2, Col. 6.

CLAIM BEAUTY FRENDS OF MARY LAWSON

YOUTHFUL SUITOR IS SOUGHT IN MYSTERY

Boy She Called "The Pest," Who Followed Her From Texas, May Furnish Clue

New York, Feb. 9 (I.N.S.)—The spectre of an unrequited love—love of a small town sweetheart for a jeweled moth of Broadway—today stalked to the centre of the stage of the "bright lights" ever old tragedy—the murder of Miss Louise Lawson, beautiful young musician.

Yesterday police found her dead. She had been mysteriously strangled. Today police are seeking "the boy" for questioning to see what he knows, if anything, of the case. Louise Lawson's friends told detective of him. He had lived the "juvenile north" in the days of their friendship when she came to New York. He followed.

For a time both were happy. They were seen places together—the houses of the shows, the cheaper cabaret, the concert.

Then other and wealthier men entered the life of Louise Lawson. She followed.

DISEASES DIAGNOSED BY BLOOD

Some Hub Doctors Practicing Electrical System Declared Illegal

A number of doctors in Boston who have started a world-wide controversy. The storm of discussion is still raging, and investigations are being made by scientific agencies.

Supporters of the system had it as the greatest of all medical discoveries. They declare it has revolutionized medical science, and is a long-hoped-for panacea for most of the ills of humanity.

Practitioners of this system make remarkable claims for it, which they assert have been borne out by practical tests.

They claim that through the medium of a drop of blood sent to them on a bit of blotting paper, they can diagnose the patient's disease, age, sex, race and religious belief.

According to the practitioners, this discovery is possible through the discovery that all diseases give off "charges."

The vibratory rate—as it is called for each disease—has been measured, and is definite, the proponents of the system say.

By applying the same vibratory rate to the patient through the medium of an electrical machine, a cure is effected, they assert. This system of diagnosis is known as the "Electronic Reactions of Atoms."

It is of particular interest in Boston because in 1923 it late founder, Dr. Albert Abrams, gave a demonstration here.

He was given in the office of his old disciple in Boston, Francis A. De O. O. M. M., at No. 350 Western street.

SENATE PROBES TOLD SINCLAIR, DOHENY AND PLAND WERE IN PLOT

Washington, Feb. 9.—That Harry F. Sinclair, E. L. Doheny and "The Standard Oil Allied Companies" conspired to assure Edward of the Teapot Dome Naval oil lease to Sinclair, was one of the charges made today before the Senate Oil Investigating Committee by Frederick G. Bonifits, publisher of the Denver Post.

Bonifits heatedly denied that Sinclair "had bought him for $100,000" not to publish attacks on the oil man for leasing Teapot Dome.

"It's not true. It's not true," Bonifits replied, when questioned by Senator Leonard.

When Bonifits took the stand the committee went into an examination of the contracts and documents relating to the claims of the Midwest Refining Company and allied companies upon Teapot Dome.

The bill of complaint in the suit by John Lee Stock, owner of men, against Harry F. Sinclair, the Pioneer and Teapot Dome companies to recover on a contract whereby Stock agreed to secure leases to Teapot Dome for the company, was read.

VALUED AT $500,000,000. Stock's bill alleges the attorneys for the companies represented to ex-Secretary of the Interior Fall that Sinclair had acquired all private claims upon Teapot Dome, resulting directly in the leasing of the reserve.

Stock charged the lease was made without competitive bidding and that Teapot Dome had a total of 100,000,000 barrels of oil, valued at $200,000,000.

"What reason do you have for believing that Sinclair joined with the Pioneer, the Midwest, and the Standard Oil Companies of Indiana to deprive the nation of its oil in Teapot Dome?" Senator Walsh asked.

"Only what Stock told me," said Bonifits. "He said Teapot Dome, the Standard Oil and the Midwest agreed to let Sinclair get Teapot Dome and because they had no interests in California they were willing to let Bonifits have the lease."

Do you know what the allied oil companies got for getting out of the way for Sinclair?" asked Walsh.

"Yes, the Midwest and other companies got $1,000,000, to be paid out."

Rules Radio Widow Right in Seeking Outside Fun

Bridgeton, Ct., Feb. 9.—Because he cared more for his radio set than he did for her was the reason given in Superior Court by Mrs. Harold K. Andrews for leaving her husband, Andrews asked Judge Isaac Wolfe for a habeas corpus to obtain possession of his two children, whom the mother took with her when she left last August. He accused his wife of leaving him alone in his radio set. A husband should remember his own duties to his wife, Mrs. Andrews naturally had to seek pleasure elsewhere.

BOY COASTER IS KILLED BY TRUCK

Nine-year-old Jacob Karp of No. 112 Park street, East Boston, was killed and his brother, Nathan, twelve, was injured when the auto on which they were coasting was run down today by a truck at the corner of Glen and Concord streets.

Joseph Shapiro of No. 117 Chelsea street, owner and driver of the truck, rushed both boys in the machine to the East Boston Relief Hospital. Jacob was dead when they arrived.

The boys were coasting down Glen street. When they passed Concord, the truck turned out of a side street directly in front of them.

SHERIFF SEIZED IN KLUX WAR

One Dead, One Wounded in Herrin; Hospital Is Bombarded by Armed Mob

Murphysboro, Ill., Feb. 9.—Miners in twelve miles in the territory between Herrin and Murphysboro walked out today with the intention according to reports here, of organizing themselves to "oust the klans from Williamson county."

Miners from nine, number 1, near Herrin, were the first to quit work. Min managers feared serious trouble was imminent.

Herrin, Ill., Feb. 9 (A.P.)—Herrin, scene of the miners' riot of 1922, was taken over by the five companies of State troops today as a result of a riot last night between "whites" and "drys," in which a constable was killed and a deputy sheriff wounded seriously.

Before the arrival of the troops, the raiders, armed with revolvers and shotguns, patrolled the streets of Herrin for several hours, denying anyone they considered "unpatriotic" to pass. All unable to give the klans password were searched for weapons.

Sheriff Gilliam has been arrested in connection with the constable's death. The arrest of some of his men.

CUTTER CREW VANISHES HUNTING RUM-RUNNERS
New York, Feb. 9.—Five men of the United States revenue cutter Seminole, who left the vessel in a ship launch to investigate rum-runners' activities off Long Beach, Long Island, at midnight had not returned to the cutter today and a general alarm was sent out to seek the missing craft. News of the disappearance was sent by wireless to coast guard headquarters here by Lieutenant-Commander Philip H. Scott of the Seminole.

The Story of a Boston Girl

and said: "The boy," often he told to see her.

"Tell him I'm out—tell him I'm always out—tell him I'm a girl," friends quoted Miss Lawson as saying. And as "the boy" came to be known as "the girl," there was the only name police have for him today as they search for him.

Police today held onto another slender thread by which they hoped to unravel the tangled skein of mystery shrouding the murder.

The man who killed her was a "friend," Douglas detective John D. Coughlin declared—one of the many men who shared about the flame of her charism in the six years after she came from Walnut Springs, Texas.

In a corner of her hotel apartment, Coughlin found the kit bag she had carried to New York. It, with everything else in the place, had been ransacked.

Her jewelry, $12,000 in stock certificates in Brooklyn Manhattan Trust Co. Company, and her cash were missing.

Despite this apparent robbery, Coughlin today expressed doubt that theft furnished the key to the Coughlin, grizzled veteran of the "Red King" case and almost countless "Broadway girl" murders, believed to know the name of the slayer.

Another development today that tended to dispel the robbery theory was the discovery of part of the girl's missing gown in a shoe store, she had left them to be repaired.

Parallel Details in Deaths of 2 Broadway Beauties

New York, Feb. 9.—The similarity of the murders of Louise Lawson, major actress, and Dorothy Kieran, the Red King of the Broadway cabaret, was pointed out by detectives today. Some of the outstanding facts follow:

Dorothy Kieran, model, lived alone in apartment at No. 144 West 27th street.

She was well known on Broadway.

Her body was found the morning of March 15, 1923.

She had been murdered in bed.

She had been beaten and strangled.

The bedclothing and garments were torn and in confusion.

Her money and jewelry were missing.

The body was discovered by a negro maid.

She is believed to have been murdered by a man.

The last man known to be in the apartment did not come down in the elevator.

Miss Lawson knew wealthy persons.

She was in the party of Avenue B. Duke and had dinner on board his yacht the night Mr. Duke was drowned at the landing of the Indian Harbor.

Miss Lawson was young and pretty. She was twenty-four.

to Simkins, but set to Slack, Slack had worked for the companies and they treated him like an office boy. They thought if they acted with Simkins, they could disregard the Slack contract and settle with him later.

The Senate itself, meeting an hour earlier than usual, was split upon the resolution demanding the immediate resignation of Secretary Denby.

As the debate went back to the debate on the Denby cabinet resolution, indications were that the measure would be adopted in a fair margin, possibly before adjournment tonight.

Leaders of both sides agreed to hold the Senate in session to force a vote today if possible.

A poll taken today by the International News Service shows Denby would be re-elected, then.

In favor: Republicans & Democrats at Farmer Laboratories 2, Total 31, Opposed: Republicans 4; Democrats 1, Total 43.

Administration Republicans agreed that the Senate was without constitutional authority to pass the resolution and urged that the secretary be given a "fair and proper trial."

A substitute resolution, demanding the resignation of Denby, was introduced this afternoon by Senator Jones of Washington. It would eliminate the "demand upon President Coolidge" as carried in the Robinson resolution, and all reference to charges, merely declaring a vote to be the "sense of the Senate" that the public interests would be served by the resignation of Secretary Denby.

together appropriated under the administration of Mayor Ryan. If anything can stop murder at the top and bottom of the human machine, the public school will do it.

For the public school spreads knowledge, which is light. "Give light," said Denby, "and the people will find their own way."

IN ENGLAND they really cut last taxes. Guinness' Brew Company in 1921 made over seventy-six million dollars, profit.

The government got sixty millions for excise and license duties and seven millions for income and excess profits tax—total, $67,794,000. Guinness had just $7,583,000 left out of $15,214,000.

That, interests those that suggest solving the prohibition problem by permitting the sale, with heavy taxation, of light beer.

SUCH a plan would produce two thousand millions a year for the government, discountage whiskey-selling bootleggers, and, according to Thomas Jefferson, who wrote the Declaration of Independence, it would also encourage real temperance.

PRAGUE, amazed, heard of a baby born completely cured with hair. Only doctors and scientists have been allowed to see it. The parents are normal. This news should be kept carefully from W. J. Bryan—also the fact that at a certain stage of their existence, before birth, all babies have a complete covering of hair. Nature seems to conpire with Darwin, to force belief in evolution upon us.

GIRL'S LETTERS MAY GIVE CLEW TO SLAYER

Notes Found in Louise Lawson's Apartment Closely Guarded by Sleuths

New York, Feb. 9.—Among the many photographs found in the apartment of Louise Lawson, blonde looked lovely beauty, mystery only slain, was one marked "Dolly Dear."

Among her financial papers was a record showing that she had a credit in the Stock Exchange House of Hayden, Stone & Co., No. 25 Broad street, $15,000 worth of Brooklyn-Matrimonial trust stock.

There were many letters on the battered executive manila, many copies in lead, shaking sheets. Others were penned by what seemed to be a fidgeting hand, and directed by a brain which may have been uncertain of what his fervid words would mean.

Then there were letters bearing the postmark: "Walton Springs, Texas."

LETTERS FROM HOME

Walton Springs, Texas, was the "home town" of Louise Lawson. There her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lawson, lived. Louise was twenty-four.

Inspector Coughlin glanced at these letters from "back home."

They listed Louise as well. When she was coming home? Everyone was sure to see her. How was she making out with her piano lessons? She seemed to love it.

No, boys. I can't show you these.

Inspector Coughlin shook his head slowly, fumbled with the letters and then, after a moment, he tore up after writing a telegram to the office of one of the city's best-known attorneys, Mr. Charles W. Wakefield, close friend of the slain girl, told the police.

CHUM UNNEVERED

"I met Miss Lawson while I was playing in the chorus of the Follies. We became very chummy and often went out together to parties, theaters and dinners. This thing has happened to me before."

"I have thought of everything and still I am unable to think of any other reason for this terrible thing except the fact of robbery—there was such a lovely girl—had such a charming disposition—that I am sure to me who know her would have any reason for harming her."

FOUND BY MAID

When her colored maid came upon her, she was lying on her back with her eyes still open. A band of white adhesive tape sealed her lips. A hand towel was also tied across her mouth. A huge bath towel covered her nostrils.

Her hands were knotted with a pair of her own silk stockings and she was washed to the foot of the bed with the dead.

The apartment was turned top-to-bottom. Every jewel the girl owned was gone. But from the thoroughgoing way in which the girl's dress and the police who made the preliminary investigation were inclined to think that the slayer—and murderer—were after something else besides jewels.

MAN'S REASON TOLD BY DROP OF BLOOD, ABRAMS' CLAIM

VIBRATIONS SHOW AGE, RACE AND SEX OF PATIENT

ELECTRONIC REACTION TEST

The Massachusetts State Board of Registration in Medicine has declared that electrical diagnosis of disease is illegal in this State.

Dr. Abram's articles have been published by the Journal of the American Medical Association, the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal and Health International Magazine.

The Scientific American is publishing the results of an investigation of the Abram's method by a special committee.

The Boston American proposes to set forth both sides of the controversy.

The Abram's practitioners in Greater Boston have a large following.

They maintain elaborate offices and some, according to their own propaganda, are making from $1,000 to $2,000 a week.

Some of these disciples of Dr. Abram have been visited by inventors of the Boston American.

What occurred at these visits will be told in the following articles.

LICENSE REVOKED

In May of 1923 the House of one of the Abram's practitioners, Dr. Philip A. E. Shepard, was revoked by the Massachusetts State Board.

Dr. Abram journeyed from San Francisco and appeared before the Board in behalf of his "apostle."

The Board refused to grant a license.

The day following the hearing, Dr. Abram gave his demonstration in the office of Dr. A. W. Boylston street.

A representative of the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal was present.

The Journal's comment on the affair will be printed later.

Dr. Abram did not mention the diagnosis of disease by a drop of blood.

Dr. Abram declared among other things he could determine the age of an individual by a drop of blood.

He eventually contended he could substitute an autograph of an individual, living or dead, for a drop of blood and determine if the person suffered from disease.

Shortly before he died he is reported that he had about perfected a machine which would locate the abnormal position of a drop of blood.

Diagnosis under the "Electronic Reaction" system is by means of electrical apparatus and the aid of electrical apparatus and the aid of electrical apparatus.

HAILED AS WONDER

"More wonderful still," Dr. Abram "has in fact, reported the results of substituting the autograph of an individual, living or dead, for a drop of blood."

In the Roxbury district Mr. Roach has conveyed to Rudolph Carver (title to the three-family frame dwelling with 1,600 square feet of land) at No. 44 Beach Glen Street. Taxed valuation $10,000. The new owner will occupy.

REDUCED RATES

POPULAR AT THE ESSEX

Great Volume of Business in Transacted in Hub Hotel

That lower prices and improved service will win the approval of the traveling public and justify themselves by increased patronage is proved in the case of the Hotel Essex.

This hotel, one of the largest in Boston, attracted national attention when it announced a substantial reduction in rates, applicable both to rooms and to the hotel restaurant. At the same time, various improvements in service were instituted.

BEST PATRONAGE

According to Manager McCarthy, the response already has exceeded the highest expectation of the management and the Hotel Essex is now enjoying the best patronage in its history.

The aim of the management of Hotel Essex is to provide a type of service which will make every guest feel that every employee of the hotel, from the porter who handles the luggage up through the ranks to the manager, is personally interested in making his stay at Hotel Essex a pleasurable event.

FAME SPREADS

The development of this spirit of service is a hobby with Manager McCarthy, who has successfully outlined his ideas into the operating staff of the hotel that hundreds of guests have personally congratulated him upon the friendly atmosphere which permeates the hotel, and the cheerful, courteous attention rendered by the employees.

BRITAIN HAS ENOUGH

Liquor, but Isn't Drinking Much

London, Feb. 9.—Consumers of alcoholic liquors in Britain have either not been so thirsty lately, or the last two decades or have lost the desire to drink, for the consumption of beer, spirits and wine in the United Kingdom has undergone an immense reduction since the end of the last century.

Beer consumed in 1909 per head was 35.53 gallons. SCHICK TEST IS DEFENDED BY DR. MAHONEY

Harmless and Did Not Make Children Ill, Says Health Commissioner

Editor, Boston American:
I hope that you will help me in an effort to remove a confusion in the public mind regarding a matter which in public interest should be clearly understood.

The public is continually being told that the Schick test is responsible for the illness of a group of school children who have been featured so conspicuously in the newspapers recently. This is not so. The Schick test has been done extensively in Europe and this country for over ten years and nobody ever heard of any ill effects from a Schick test, except possibly some itching.

The Schick test consists of putting an insignificant amount of diphtheria toxin in the superficial layer of the skin, the same insensible part of the skin through which a schoolboy often sticks a pin for his own amusement and the edification of his schoolmates.

MERELY DETECTS.

The Schick test merely tells whether or not a person is immune to diphtheria, that is, whether or not he is capable of taking the disease. If he is immune, the test produces no result whatever. If he is susceptible to diphtheria, a small reddish discoloration of the skin develops and perhaps does not entirely fade out for some days. There is never anything like an open sore or a scab at the spot.

This Schick testing is what has recently been started in the public schools of Boston. The pupils in the parochial schools and other private schools of Boston were tested not last year. We find practically 50 per cent of the Boston school children immune to diphtheria.

If the Schick test shows a person is susceptible to diphtheria, there is another and entirely different procedure available to make the person permanently immune to the disease, provided he may care to protect himself. This procedure consists of making several injections into the arm of a preparation composed of a mixture of diphtheria toxin neutralized by the addition of diphtheria antitoxin.

NOT SCHICK TESTING.

This is in connection with the immunization procedure, not Schick testing, that the recent reported ill effects in a group of school children occurred. Apparently, the freezing of the preparation served to decompose it so that the diphtheria toxin was separated from the neutralizing antitoxin.

The Boston health department has given 11,127 injections of this immunizing mixture without ill effects and is continuing to this immunize children against diphtheria, with the consent of their parents. But it should be clearly understood that this is not "Schick Testing"—and even if a parent should feel hesitation about allowing a child to take the immunizing injections against diphtheria there is no reason why a father or mother should not allow a child to submit to the Schick test, of which 52,314 children have already been made in Boston by this department—and this serve to relieve a parent's mind by telling him that the child is already naturally immune to diphtheria.

The above makes a total of 146,441 Schick and Toxin-antitoxin injections which have been given in Boston by the Boston health department, without a single record of ill effects. Very truly yours,
F. X. MAHONEY,
Health Commissioner.

Puritan Influence a Stiff Topic, Says Betty Alden

MRS. REGINALD BOARDMAN
Among the hostesses enjoying the baln of Palm Beach is Mrs. Reginald Boardman of Marlboro street, who is seen here with her niece, little Grace Amory.

By BETTY ALDEN.
Is, or is not, the Puritan influence detrimental to development?

Such is the weighty question which members of the Boston and New York Junior League will debate on February 26 at the club headquarters of the League on Boylston street.

Among the debaters is Mrs. Charles K. Cobb, Jr., who, as Miss Esie Nichols, resigned as leader of the Vincent Club two years ago.

Others of the Boston contingent, who will put into play all their powers of oratorical persuasion, include Madam Evans R. Dick, Harvey Bundy and Thomas Moran, as well as the Misses Sarah Winslow, Elizabeth White and Helen Morton.

AMONG the smartest members of the Boston coterie at Palm Beach is Mrs. Reginald Boardman of Marlboro street and Manchester-by-the-Sea.

The Boardmans and their young family spend the winters regularly at the famous stamping ground, as do also Mrs. Boardman's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minot Amory.

The other day the camera caught Mrs. Boardman—who, by the way, has a shingle "bob"—on the grounds of the Everglades Club. With her are her niece, little Grace Amory, and Barbara Bingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Bingham of Westbury, L. I.

TO judge by the program, those who attend the gymkhana, rough riding and polo event at the Commonwealth avenue armory a week from today, will get plenty of thrills for their money.

A group of society folk, especially members of the sports-loving contingent, are arranging the affair, which is to benefit the Children's Hospital and Convalescent Home. There will be two performances, one at 2:30 and another at 8:30.

There will be prizes for every event on the program, including the musical chairs, a polo game between the First Corps Arka and the Mrs. Herbert 11th Cavalry Jacques, Jr., teams, a check and ball race, attempts to ride the bucking mule, arena games, a balloon fight, exhibition by station 16, a punch ball battle between the New Riders Club and the First Corps Area, rough riding by the 11th Cavalry, another polo game between the 11th Cavalry and the Essex county teams, and an exhibition drill by a platoon of Battery A, 16th F. A., commanded by Captain Theodore Storer.

Mrs. Herbert Jacques, Jr., of Beacon street is one of those completing details for the affair along with such prominent folk as George von L. Meyer, George P. Gardner, Jr., Mrs. Charles P. Curtis, Jr., Miss Polly Webster, Mrs. Harold J. Coolidge, Mrs. Clarence Edwards, Mrs. S. Huntington Wolcott, Mrs. Reginald Foster, Mrs. Alvin P. Sorrell and Mrs. Thomas P. Mandell.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Adams of No. 213 Commonwealth avenue are sponsoring at the Ponce de Leon in St. Augustine, Fla.

"How I Wooed and Won the $40,000,000 Rogers's Heiress"

Count Salm's Own Story of His Whirlwind Courtship and Marriage

Count Salm's First Glimpse of Millicent Rogers

(Excerpt from His Manuscript)

"I have always been a believer in Fate—not the cruel, blind Nemesis of the Orient, but a Fate which places men in danger, despair and doubt, only to crown them—if they are worthy—with success at last!

"One day I went to a certain famous Fifth Avenue photographer to inquire about some portraits. My introduction was cut short by a disconcerting face, from an oak frame on the wall opposite, was a photograph of the most wonderful face I had ever encountered, waking or dreaming. Great, dark eyes glowing out from cheeks of flawless contour—those were the keynote of the portrait, and, I felt instinctively, the keynote to the unknown lady."

Count Salm Meets Millicent at the Opera Club

(Excerpt from His Manuscript)

"Later, at the Opera Club, I got my first chance for real conversation with her. I have met beautiful girls who were stupid. But here was a beautiful girl who was actually brilliant!

"She danced divinely. Never, I think, have I ever encountered a girl with as fine a sense of rhythm. She did not move, as some girls do, with affected vigor, nor was there any hint of lassitude. It was simply like drifting on and on—one never wanted to stop.

"That night, in my rooms, I faced the problem squarely. I said to myself, 'I love this girl as I have never loved a human being before. I shall win her—I must.'"

IN order to bring this smashing, sensational romance to the reader with all its background, atmosphere and color, Count Ludwig Salm von Hoogstraeten pens in detail of his whole life with its swiftly varying surroundings of regal old-world splendor, the battlefield, the tennis championship courts, the "movie" studios, the duelling grounds, America's high spots of wealth and society's inner circles, the whirlwind courtship of Mary Millicent Rogers (America's richest heiress), the wedding and the honeymoon, Count Salm, of his eventful life and romances, leaves nothing untold.

YALE HOCKEY TEAM A SLIGHT FAVORITE OVER HARVARD

COLLEGE CLASSIC TONIGHT

The hockey classic of the collegiate season will be decided tonight at the Arena. Harvard and Yale will meet in the first game of their Big Three series. The Crimson has a victory over Princeton and so has Yale, and for the present these dispose of the Tigris.

On straight hockey Yale has a slight edge on Harvard, but the larger Arena surface to which the Crimson is accustomed is a decided advantage. The game will be a close one, and the spectators will be disappointed if the contest is not a close one.

Harvard has the entire left side of the Arena as well as half of the right side. The rest of the seats were allotted to Yale men.

Less than 2,000 admission tickets will be placed on sale at 7:30 to night and this ensures it will be the only chance for the public to get in on this big game.

Through arrangements with Shoppe's Store the game will be broadcast through WJAG station from the press gallery.

Charles O'Hara of Brooklyn, Yale leader, is expected to lead the team to victory. This is a colorful attack and Harvard will be kept alert.

Harvard will be kept alert as they did on the late Hockey Fair.

When Freddie Huntington was hit by O'Hara's shot.

Both Harvard and Yale have had experience against club teams. Yale has had several brushes with New Haven, while the Crimson has been up against the three Boston club teams. The forward lines appear to be well matched and the big test will come between the two defenses.

The one man in the Harvard defense expected to deliver is Charlie Chase, the tall defenseman. He has five faster skaters in hockey than he. Yale will have the reliable Jenkins in goal. This had one of the finest goalies in the country.

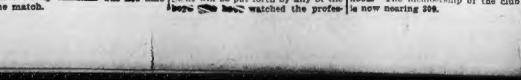

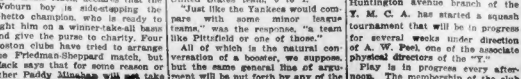

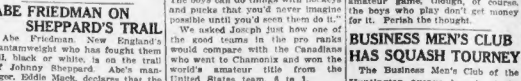

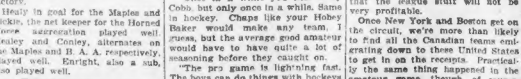

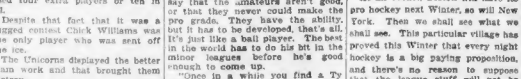

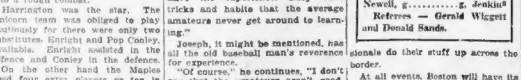

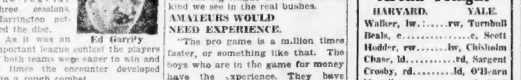

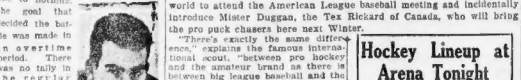

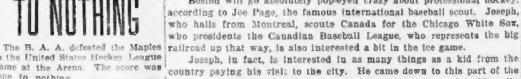

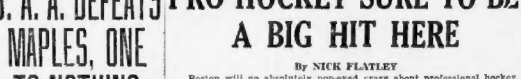

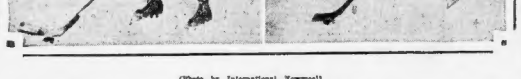

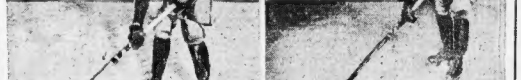

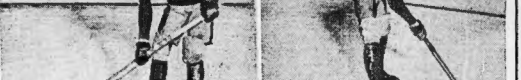

Four nights of hockey will comprise the arena hit next week. On Wednesday night, the Harvard and Yale teams will meet.

The Friday hockey game the Harvard and Yale teams will meet.

The Saturday hockey game the Harvard and Yale teams will meet.

The Sunday hockey game the Harvard and Yale teams will meet.

HE'S BUDDING HOCKEY STAR

SCHOOL STARS

BIG TRACK GAMES

By FRED C. LANE.
The Harvard intercollegiate meet scheduled for February 14 at the Mechanics Building will this year mark that of any school meet in the East judging by the number of entries received. Entries closed Wednesday with approximately 100 contestants made up from 13 prep and 27 high schools.

With the exception of the return of the Boston High school as competitors, Milton High School's only new entry received this year in the public high series, Dexter, because of a schedule drawn up by the school.

In the season will be unable to compete this year. Huntington, Worcester Academy and Andover stand out as the leading entrants in the prep school ranks.

Because of their strength they have been designated as Class A teams. When Eastern University comes to the meet it will be put in the class. Moses Brown, with six contestants, is John's prep with 11. Dean Academy, 8. Noble and Greenough 14. Randolph Seminary 1, Milton Academy 6. Country Day 2. Foxcroft 10. Pinkerton 15. Browne and Nichols 19. Holy Cross 19 and Boston College High will be known as Class B prep school teams.

Of this number, Southbury, Worcester Point and Country Day are new entries.

In past years this affair was known as the Massachusetts High School State indoor meet. Worcester authorities were invited to assume the title, hence the changing of the name.

Entry blanks are in the mail from Southbury, Latin, Worcester Academy, School of Commerce and Worcester Academy.

The one sad feature of the meet is the rule which prevents the Boston High school boys from competing. Outside of the honor and publicity a victory might bring a Boston boy would receive many of the many events for which he is qualified.

The only a matter of time before the School Board of Boston will have to let down the bars which forbid the boys from competing the trophies won in competition.

A new plan will be put in regard at the Boston Arena in the way of running off the Boston high school hockey games today. In the past the boys had to wait three weeks in the short space of two weeks. Coach Connelly has altered the old plan somewhat, cutting down the number of weekly games to two.

This new scheme is sure to prove popular for it allows the boys to start play at 7:45, instead of the customary hour of 7. Then again the ice will be in better condition for the team that plays the second game, thus giving a faster hockey and more brilliant play.

It is because the chance of the boys catching cold while waiting their turn to go on. In the past, each game was held in the same rink. As while one was waiting after the first game, the other was waiting and was wet.

When three games were scheduled, the two teams had to wait for the opening contest were forced to wait close to 30 minutes before it came turn for their final appearance on the ice, subjecting them to dangers that perhaps would prove fatal.

Today, Dorchester High, leader of the league, meets Commerce High. This game stands out as the banner attraction of the day's play. Commerce has come strong in the last two weeks and appears at this time the strongest force that the Dorchester sextet has had to meet this season.

B. A. A. DEFEATS MAPLES, ONE TO NOTHING

By NICK FLETCHER
Boston will go absolutely giddy over professional hockey, according to Joe Page, the famous international baseball scout. Joseph, who hails from Montreal, scouts Canada for the Chicago White Sox, who represents the Canadian Baseball League, who represents the big league.

Joseph, in fact, is interested in as many things as a kid from the world to attend the American League baseball meeting and incidentally introduce Minor Duggan, the Tex Rickard of Canada, who will bring the pro pack chasers here next winter.

"There's exactly the same difference," explains the famous international scout, "between pro hockey and the amateur league as there is between big league baseball and the kid we see in the local bushes."

AMATEURS WOULD NEED EXPERIENCE.
The pro game is a million times faster, or something like that. The boys who are in the game for money have the experience. They have tricks and habits that the average amateur never get around to learning."

Joseph, it might be mentioned, has all the old baseball man's reverence for experience. "I don't say," he continues, "I don't say that the amateurs aren't good, or that they never could make the pro grade. They have the ability, but it has to be developed, that's all. The boys who play in the minor leagues in the world has to do his bit in the minor leagues before he's good enough to come up."

"Once in a while you find a Ty Cobb, but once in a while, same in hockey. Chape like your Hobby Baker would make any team. But the average good amateur would have to have quite a lot of training before they could get up to the pro grade."

"The pro game is lightning fast. The boys can do things with hockey sticks and puck that you'd never imagine possible until you'd seen them do it."

We noted Joseph just saw one of the good teams in the pro ranks would compare with the Canadian team who went to Chicago and won the world's amateur title from the United States team, 3 to 1.

"Just like the Yankees would compare with the Boston Red Sox, but the average good amateur would have to have quite a lot of training before they could get up to the pro grade."

Hockey Lineup at Arena Tonight

HARVARD. YALE.
Walker, R., ... Turnbull, B., ... Scott, H., ... Chubb, C., ... Sargent, C., ... O'Brien, J., ... Donald, S., ... Wilson, G., ...

Today, Dorchester High, leader of the league, meets Commerce High. This game stands out as the banner attraction of the day's play. Commerce has come strong in the last two weeks and appears at this time the strongest force that the Dorchester sextet has had to meet this season.

Boston will go absolutely giddy over professional hockey, according to Joe Page, the famous international baseball scout. Joseph, who hails from Montreal, scouts Canada for the Chicago White Sox, who represents the big league.

Joseph, in fact, is interested in as many things as a kid from the world to attend the American League baseball meeting and incidentally introduce Minor Duggan, the Tex Rickard of Canada, who will bring the pro pack chasers here next winter.

"There's exactly the same difference," explains the famous international scout, "between pro hockey and the amateur league as there is between big league baseball and the kid we see in the local bushes."

Judge Fuchs Looks for Young Stars to Spring Up

Boys who were young to enter the World War are going to be the major league baseball stars within a year or two, in the opinion of Judge J. M. Fuchs, one of the owners of the Braves.

"There will be some careful scouting for this material," he said, "because the big leagues are crowded with veterans who are fading fast."

"I believe the time is fast approaching when there will be many Frankie Frische in baseball."

EAGAN MADE A HIT IN BUFFALO FIGHT

Joe Eagan, the Dorchester middleweight, made a big hit in Buffalo three weeks ago when he won over Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo in a fast six-round bout. He was offered $12,000 to box Frankie Schell in the Bronx City on February 12. Eddie Mack, manager of Eagan, telegraphed to the promoter that he would accept $1,000 for Eagan.

The last time that Eagan boxed there the crowd was estimated at 13,000 and as Eagan was in on a big fight, he was given a big fight to be entitled to more consideration to go back there, with such a tough crowd as Schell.

B. C. HIGH AND DORCHESTER WIN AT ARENA

Boston College High and Dorchester were the winners in today's ice hockey struggles at the Arena.

B. C. H. smothered the Merchants Arts boys by the score of 6 to 0, while Dorchester defeated the High School of Commerce 2 to 0.

Jim Riney of the young Eagle squad was the star of the early day performance, caging three goals single handed, while Maloney, Fitzgerald and Comerford were the others B. C. H. boys to talk.

For Dorchester Lincoln and Raymond did the scoring. Goldstein, Howard and Murphy also played well.

By NICHOLAS LUTEN

IT takes more than courage to tell a pretty woman she doesn't look her best. In the sport suit, carefully selected to material and built to a trim figure by a tailor who knows how to pile on the charges. Nothing short of an utter disregard for consequences could possibly lead a husband to enter into the dressing room of his wife in a hotel in Vienne, in a legal's dressing-room at the Tremont, telling the lovely little featured player in Mr. Savage's "The Clinging Vine," that something was dreadfully wrong with her appearance. The tale of the husband's discovery of the folly of a mere man discussing woman's clothes with a woman was made completely and thoroughly apparent. At the best it's a foolhardy venture, loaded to the nozzle with the possibility of a divorce. But if you yourself the next time you meet a pretty girl for the first time.

Herally against him. "Don't strike him, dear," interposed Miss Segal. "He knows not of what he speaks. Let me present my husband, Mr. Robert Ames."

OPEN hostilities were averted, but Miss Segal insisted upon fixing a definite settlement on the unhappy subject. "Whenever an average looking girl, or even a pretty girl, looks misfit in a well-made suit, you can place the blame on the girl. The old bromide that clothes make the man attractive is only a half truth. Clothes make the man, and he must have personality as well as lines in fine raiment to make the most of her dressmaker's job. Now, you do not like my sport suit—"

The hovering husband interrupted. "Why, man alive, she plays golf in that same outfit, and you should look over her score."

THAT suggested a new angle—an avenue of escape from an unfortunate topic that had all but engulfed us. "You play golf in your stage clothes?" you ask. "How unusual."

"Not at all," answered Miss Segal. "You see when I was called to this job, I was told I was going to have a long time to collect a new wardrobe, so I just naturally selected the best of my own gowns and started on the job. That suit was my favorite—and I still use it outside the theatre. Still, if I miss fire the fault must be mine—for the suit has successfully passed all critics."

COLLEGE COMIC NOW SETS PACE FOR PROFESSIONALS

THEATRE has been reams and reams of paper consumed and typewriter ribbons worn in the glorification of the college man in professional apparel. In the name of the college man, the profession of taxi driving—but who will say a word for the college man in the theatre? Mr. Gallagher will do it—Mr. Richard (Skeets) Gallagher, who adds more than a patrician note to the galaxy of nations in general and to the good health and continued vigor of "Up and Down" in particular. Ladies and gentlemen, please meet Mr. Gallagher—he's the battling flyweight of good cheer in the corner at the Wilbur. Let's consider that Mr. Gallagher has risen to his full height of five feet and something more, and has made profound and formal acknowledgment of the introduction. Any good actor could do that much, get a roaring cheer and go back to his corner bellowing his own conquest with the cruel capitalists of the drama would have to be different—much

"BUT it isn't your size that makes you funny," you ventured. "There have been smaller men who tried to be funny and failed and there are many heavyweights who are just natural comedians and don't fail. What is the secret?"

A dab of misplaced laughter that clung to an ear was brushed away. "If I am really funny, which I sometimes doubt, it is because I was drilled in five years of vaudeville. They will not fail for you in vaudeville. You land at once or you don't land at all. Up She Goes! I am working under the pressure of a vaudeville."

NEXT WEEK'S NEW BILLS

SHUBERT—"The Passing Show—1923 Edition." A New York Winter Garden revue, claiming a company of one hundred and presenting for the first time here its "Living Curtain" and "Living Chandelier." In the cast will be found Ted Lewis, sometimes called the high hatted tragedian of song; George Hassell, George Jessell and Frank Gaby. Music by Sigmund and Jean Schwartz.

PLYMOUTH—Grant Mitchell in "The Whole Town's Talking." A farce by John Emerson and Anita Loos, who give Frances Aubrey and Ernest Bach credit for the central idea, which, it appears, conceals a girl who believes a prospective husband should have a jurist past. Mr. Mitchell's attempt to show a crop of wild oats keeps him busy from curtain to curtain.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE—"The Bat." First time at popular prices. Played here for twenty-three weeks last season, running second only to "Lights" in length of stay. "The Bat" is the original of the long list of mystery plays that have thrilled and chilled thousands of playgoers. Has been pre-

SOMERVILLE—"Lawful Larceny." Melodramatic comedy by Samuel Shipman. The theme of the story is based on the inequality of justice which sends an ordinary thief to prison but gives no punishment to the man who steals another man's wife. Bernard Nedell and Ann MacDonald will have the leading roles.

TRUMBULL RECITAL
Florence Trumbull of Chicago returns to Boston for a piano recital at Steiner Hall next Tuesday evening. The young pianiste, after her first hearing here a year ago, left behind her definite impressions of a facile technic and very musically playing. Miss Trumbull spent several years in Vienna, studying with prominent pupils, for Lombard.

'JAZZMANIA'
TAKES STAGE
TODAY

Contrary to a custom that usually finds an author of a new play present at its premiere, Frank Coe was absent from the opening of his new musical comedy, "Put She Gone," the musical version of his own comedy list, "Too Many Cooks." For the first time, the midnight performance last Thursday at the Wilbur. When the musical piece was produced in New York last season, Coe was at the opening in the New York City. He had completed his season and again returned to New York, but he was in May and "Put She Gone" had closed.

"I'm going to arrange a special performance, Frank, so that you can see your piece," William A. Brady told Coe when he was here in Boston in April and May. And the midnight performance Thursday was the outcome of that.

"Jazzmania," the mid-Winter carnival, will crown a festive luncheon ball today. Lieutenant Governor Alvan T. Fuller will preside at the opening ceremonies. The proceeds of the ball will go to the Women's Charity Club for the 1934-1935. In the main ball will be a one-act circus and in other parts of the building there will be the customary variety shows. The ball dancing will be the main attraction, along with concert entertainers and an augmented orchestra of more than 100 musicians.

A restaurant, under the management of a well-known Boston caterer, also will be conducted.

Because of the great demand for Jane Cowd in Shakespeare's "Antony and Cleopatra," announced as the first production of the new season last week at the Selwyn Theatre, an extra matinee will be given next Fri-

HOSE LINE MAINED BY RESIDENTS

Angered Citizens Declare Firemen Couldn't Find the Hydrant

That citizens were forced to untroll hose and connect it to a hydrant when the fire department proved unable to find the hydrant, was one of the charges leveled at Fire Chief Mellen E. Joy and the fire department at a meeting of the Kenwood-Westland Improvement Association of Saugus.

Fires destroyed the Fleming home yesterday afternoon. The home was owned by Mrs. Fleming and her mother and older brother were killed.

The president of the association, Oswald Woodall, said he phoned the fire department at 7:57 o'clock yesterday afternoon and reported a fire at 13 Fleming home on Church street.

According to President Woodall, the fire department arrived at 8:05 o'clock. The fire department arrived at 8:05 o'clock. The fire department arrived at 8:05 o'clock.

HERO AND HIS RESCUED PALS

RISKS LIFE TO SAVE CHUM AND DOG

"Billy" Gallivan Is Hailed in Mattapan as Hero for Rescuing Playmate in Peril

"Billy" Gallivan, seven years old, is the hero of Mattapan. At the risk of his life, "Billy" crawled on his hands and knees on the thin ice of Neponset river and rescued from drowning his chum, John Brennan, five years old, and the latter's collie dog, "Jippy."

John had come to the rescue of the dog, which fell through the ice and was hanging by its tail from a branch of a tree.

THE BOYS AND THE DOG WERE PLAYING ON THE BANK OF THE RIVER NEAR THE BOSTON CONSUMPTIVE HOSPITAL.

"Jippy" ran after a stick thrown by one of the boys. The ice gave way, and in a moment the dog was struggling in the ice and water.

Brennan saw the plight of his dog. He ran onto the ice, laid the ice broke and John was in the water with the dog.

"Billy" didn't hesitate, but was more cautious than his companions. He went over the ice on his hands and knees. "Billy" got near the edge of the ice, and, reaching out, grabbed John and brought him over the ice to the river bank.

Then "Billy" went out on the ice for another perilous trip for "Jippy."

The dog was brought out in two minutes.

Sweeter Than an Angel—
Like a Prayer—Is Your Girl Like "Chickie"?

THE STORY OF "CHICKIE" TO DATE

"Chickie" Bryce is the only child in the family. Her sister living died when she was quite young, the parents lavished all their affection on "Chickie." As the story opens "Chickie" is attending business college and Arthur Sontag, one of her classmates, takes her to a dance. She confides to Mary Blake, her chum, that the avenues of romance are opening to her. "Chickie's" father is afraid of the p'dolls ahead for his daughter, but his fears are soothed by the girl and her mother. "Chickie" is thrilled to the core by the dance, and Arthur kisses her as he bids her good night. Mary and "Chickie" loudly discuss love and marriage. Mary says it's too hard for her, but "Chickie" thinks it will be all kisses and "walking on the mountain tops with her lover by her side." However, "Chickie" is suddenly disillusioned about a year later, when Arthur announces that soon he is going to a far country. After that they see very little of each other. Then one day he passes her on the street and fails to notice her. "That day 'Chickie's' heart broke."

He forced a smile, with a touch of sarcasm. "You have to forget papa up a bit, have you? Well—his Reverend! That's near to home."

"If you don't mind, I'd like to see you tonight. You see as long as I told him I'd come—"

"Oh, well! Then I suppose I'll have to free you to death with an axe!"

She took a step back. "Oh, I'd like that!"

He burst out laughing. "But you went and had a chocolate sundae."

At her door Mrs. Bryce swept off his hat with the enlivening of a piper. "I have to put papa to bed before we go next time!"

Chickie caught the end of grinning malice. "Ah—the best of us!"

RADIO QUERIES

I have a one-tube — set, in which I have added a two-stage amplifier, yet I cannot get station outside of Boston. It seems to me I should get distant stations with three 6D-12 tubes. C. E. C.

Conditions have been very poor recently for long-distance reception. Also WDAS tubes are not good amplifiers.

Somebody said something today that made you think he was a wise man. Maybe he read the "Today" column on the first page.

study has been provided by Stuart Edmund Romberg and Jean Schwan, both noted for their former contributions. Mr. Romberg is the composer of "Maytime" and has written many of the most notable numbers of the former Winter Garden shows.
